

Ability Pittsburgh 2009

The Senator John Heinz History Center, in partnership with the Smithsonian Institution's Accessibility Program, will host more than 350 students during "Ability Pittsburgh," an event for local students with disabilities Thursday, April 16, from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Students will have the opportunity to explore the Heinz History Center's collections and exhibitions and participate in four distinct interactive modules. Activities include mock interviews with local and national organizations, interactive demonstrations of assisted technologies, advocacy leaders sharing their history with information on networks and leadership groups, and a variety of recreational activities and healthy lifestyle information.
